

ABSTRACT

The present variety of mushroom plant named “Hokuto Shiro Ichigoukin” was produced by crossbreeding mutant fungal strains of two parent varieties, a + variety “Hokuto Hachigoukin” and a - variety “Hokuto Jyunigoukin,” after UV irradiation. This edible mushroom is not bitter, and can be cultivated anywhere a cultivation facility can be arranged.